JON BOWERMASTER, Writer, Filmmaker and Adventurer

A six-time grantee of the National Geographic Expeditions Council and award-winning writer and filmmaker Bowermaster was recently named one of a dozen Ocean Heroes by the NGS.

Author of eleven books, he is also writer, director and producer of twenty documentary films, most recently “After the Spill, Louisiana Water Stories, Part II,” and “Dear President Obama, The Clean Energy Revolution Is Now,” produced with and narrated by actor/advocate Mark Ruffalo.

Current film projects include “The Ghost Fleet,” which looks at the global issue of fishing slaves, a six-part series for Vice.com, “Clean Water Wars” and the web series “The Hudson, A River at Risk.”

Bowermaster lives in New York’s Hudson Valley.

MICHAEL ELLENBOGEN: projects focused on the iconic Four Seasons Restaurant that opened at the heart of the Seagram Building, 99 East 52nd Street at Park Avenue, in 1959 and closed in 2016. A feature documentary traces the history of this world-class restaurant that forever changed America’s cuisine and dining experience; a place where so many benchmark business and political deals settled over lunch that Esquire magazine coined the term “power lunch” to describe the scene in 1979. The New-York Historical Society, a New York 501(c)3 organization, has become the film’s fiscal sponsor and will accept contributions on behalf of T4S Documentary LLC, designated for the production. All contributions are 100% tax deductible and Contributors may also receive recognition as outlined in the project description. To view details and contribute directly online, please visit <http://www.nyhistory.org/four-seasons-documentary> today. A 6-9 part docu-series is in development that aims to reveal the dramatic road to actualization and high-stakes adventure that partners Julian Niccolini, Alex von Bidder, Edgar Bronfman Jr. and Matthew Bronfman have undertaken, together with renowned NY developers, Steve Roth (Vornado) and Steve Green (S. L. Green) as they relaunch the iconic Four Seasons Restaurant, designed by rising star Brazilian architect Isay Weinfeld, at 280 Park Avenue late in 2017. Michael is producing the documentary film and series together with Tom Donahue and Ilan Arboleda, Creative Chaos vmg, and his wife, Carolina.
